Director, Central Intelligence Agency

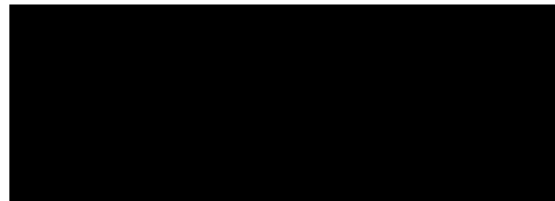

Dear Sir:

Within the last year I have had the good fortune to become involved with the prayer breakfast movement and I have benefited greatly from the Christian fellowship provided. Richard Buress, a presidential assistant active in the White House prayer breakfasts recently spoke at our church men's group and I was amazed to learn that there are weekly prayer breakfasts at the White House and in the Senate and House of Representatives. The Pentagon has a number of prayer breakfast groups and Secretary Laird has set aside a room where people may go for quiet meditation. There are thousands of leaders of government and industry participating in prayer breakfasts.

I think it would be of great benefit to officers of this agency if this type of fellowship could be made available at the agency. The Christian spirit which pervades these short gatherings carries through the day and week and effects not only the participants but those they come in contact with at work and at home. I would like to make an appointment with you to provide additional details and to discuss implementation of a prayer breakfast at the agency.

Sincerely,

STATINTL

Mr. Colby:

I had this in suspense for today. Shall we needle DD/S for a response or give them a little more time?

Tog them gently - Joyce

NOTE FOR THE FILE

I checked today with O/DDS on the progress on preparing a formal report and guidelines on the breakfast. [REDACTED] advised that Mr.
[REDACTED] is to prepare this material and submit it to DD/S.

Since the action is back to [REDACTED] who made the suggestion, I am removing our suspense.

Mr. Colby:

Re the report of the ad hoc study group on official cover -- back in October you told Tom K that you'd be interested in the action taken by him. In January, Joyce advised you that DD/S was studying the problem and would discuss the matter with CCS upon completion of their study. You asked that it be put back in suspense for another month.

CCS advised me today that DD/S is still studying it -- [REDACTED] has not heard from them. Unless you want some action taken, I'll put this back in suspense for another month. BLP (10 Feb)

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Colby

I checked with Central Cover Staff and learned that DD/S now has this problem and is in the process of studying it. Central Cover is waiting for DD/S to complete its study so they can then discuss it. Central Cover requests that we resuspend this on a month-by-month basis.

With your permission, therefore, I shall resuspend this for 7 February.

Thanks

Joyce
